BROWNLOWISM.

Fletcher Inspires Apostates to Hang the President in Effigy-A New Way of Celebrating the Auniversary of Liberty-The Fourth in Grainger

Correspondence of the Union and Dispatch, RUTLEDGE, July 9th, 1867 .- It was generally announced that the great Fletcher, whom you call Governor, was to address the people of Grainger and the surroundsties, on the current themes of in terest. To get a big crowd, the Radicals gave out that the occasion was not to be a party one, and all, irrespective of party, were cordially invited. A large number came. The object was to form the whole body in procession and march them directly into the Radical ranks. This proved to be a failure, as by actual count, the procession was composed of, first the colored band from Knoxville; second, a lady on a wagon intended to represent the Goddess of Liberty, and thirteen little girls representing the thirteen original States (an emblem of State rights that was not fully appreciated)—a cavalcade of horsemen fol-lowed by a band of black footmen, and then white tootmen, of all ages-in all some bree or four bundred.

The exercises were opened by three heers for the Radicals of the Union, three for Brownlow, and three for the speakers the occasion. Fletcher received all these cheers. Col. David Nelson, who was a fighting Unionist, paid a handsome tribute to American liberty and its anniversary. J. M. Meek, a member of the Rebel Legislature" of Gov. Harris, followed in a Radical barangue. Thea came Fletcher, in a bitter, denunciatory and bloody Radical homily. He spoke of Admiral Semmes, the Alabama, Gen. Forrest and Fort Pillow, and many, who knew his proclivities in the early part of the rebel-lion, thought he may have been with Forrest and Semmes. Others, who knew him better, were satisfied that he never encountered such dangers, and was simply giving the second-hand views of an apostate. His speech, though highly inflammatory, basely pretended to be conciliatory. This fact is shown by the scene which immedistely followed its close. One A. Griffith, a Captain of Brownlow's melish, rose and said they had heard a great deal of Andy Johnson, and he now proposed to show him. They then pro duced an effigy, which they called that of the President-carried it around uplifted over the heads of the people; then dragged it in the dirt-next paused and stamped upon it, and displayed every sign of indigty, contempt and violence towards the effigy. Some of the same men, Rebels, who hung him in effigy in 1861, were engaged the like business on this occasion. This was a very fit part of a Radical celebration of the birth-day of liberty, toleration and astice. At least, it seemed to strike Fletcher and his followers in that way.

Another illustrative incident occurred, which is worthy of mention. In 1861, a noble and brave Unionist by the name of Jones, when secession was running rampant, raised the flag of the Union. A lot of noisy Rebels gathered, cursed him, and threatened to tear it down. He defied them, and afterwards joined the 4th Tennessee Federal Infantry, and fought as an nconditional Union man. He is now a Conservative, and again, on the 4th, that the said term of twenty-four hours 1867, hoisted the same flag which he had raised in 1861, and under which he had fought. The Radical crowd, more rebeltions and revolutionary than in 1861, now threatened to tear it down. Some of the same men who were for taking it down then were in the crowd that threatened to take it down now. But Jones had heard it thunder before, and defied them, and the nscience-smitten cowards let it alone.

Such was the Radical celebration of the Fourth in Rutledge, under the auspices of Col. Fletcher! After getting the benefit of the music from the colored players, the un-grateful scamps abused the band as worthsa performers, and said, while they charged $150 for their services, they were not worth $25. It was the worst band, they said, they ever saw! They will estimate the notes of the colored people in the same way after they get the benefit of them. W. R. D.

Letter from a Colored Mau-The Negroes not Allowed to Register, Unless they are for Brownlow-A Just Complaint. To the Editors of the Union and Dispatch.

SWAN CREEK, HICKMAN COUNTY, July 8th, 1807.—I am living in Hickman in darkness and in gloom. We can't see any-thing but King Puckett and his iron rod. Hisson is Register here, and they work to snit themselves. I want to know if it is required of colored people to get certificates to vote. I thought the Legislature and enfranchised all colored men; and if o, why should we be forced to get certificates? They are very troublesome to get. The king watches his son, and tells him give only to those who are for him. I would be very glad if Mr. Etheridge would come to Centreville and make a speech. I think it would do the Pucketts good. I have lived in Hickman for four years, and I know the people generally to be law abiding. A majority of the best citiens will not be allowed to vote. I would say something about Mr. Brown low; but I am afraid the 'cursed scamp might send his melish after me. We are afraid to whip our babies, before we go to the door and look out to see if there is any melish about. They pretend to be great friends to us colored people, but as soon as the election is over they will call us Rebels and treat us likewise.

unsurpassed in this city or State. IN FULLNESS AND ACCURACY NEWS, our paper will compare favorably ith the best in the entire country; and in saying this, we only repeat the expressions of many our patrons, who are most capable of judging in uch matters.

In the Political Interests of the People,

The UNION AND DISPATCH, as heretofore, will take the Constitution and laws for its ruide; and in the discussion of all the new and intricate questions and issues arising out of the extraordinary condition in which the country i placed, it will adhere to the principles an eachings of the founders and expositors of our. government and institutions. It will endeavor to guard with vigilance and defend with unwaering earnestness and faith the rights and intests of all the States, and the essential princiles which constitute the basis of the Republic. We shall oppose all invasions of these, and uphold, to the utmost of our ability, the union of the States under them. Feeling that they the Radical politicians who now hold the Legisative power of the Government, we shall abate thing of our past opposition to their meaure With these views, which are no less than regound convictions, we cannot and will not esitate to defend the unfortunate South fro be aspersions and impositions heaped upon its people, and urge that Justice and Right shall be meted out to them.

Our Manufacturing and Domestic Interests.

We shall constantly admonish the Southern people to be self-reliant, and shall do what we nay be able to induce the establishment of napufactories in our midst for our home profucts. To this end we will pay special attention o the cost and statistics of manufacturing, and exert ourselves to encourage the diversification of Southern industries and the developnent of Southern resources.

Our Financial and Commercial Column. Every department of business has an immediate interest in the markets of the country, and in its financial fluctuations and condition. The man who falls to keep himself properly advised as to the rise and full of the markets, as controlled by the laws of demand and supply, and the relative condition of the currency, is exposed to constant loss, and must necessarily fall behind his more intelligent and enterprising neighbors. In order to make our paper valuable as well as interesting, we shall continue to make this a special PRATURE. Our Daily Market Reports, domestic and foreign, by telegraph, and our City Reports, gotten up at heavy expense, have challenged the commendation of our best business men; while our current Finanial Reports from all the leading money centre of the country are fuller than have ever of published by any other journal in Tennessee.

Upon the Subject of Agriculture And kindred topics, we shall also give an extensive variety of valuable and interesting matter the best adapted to the farming classes or our State, which will, in a great measure, supply the place of a family agricultural paper.

For the Family Circle, And for the special pleasure and profit of the young, each week we will give a general literary and religious miscellany. Nothing shall find its way into our columns unfit for the perusal of the mothers and daughters of the land. Deprecating the demoralizing sensationalism of many contemporary journals, we shall eschew that character; striving to give the reader substantial matter, preferring to be useful rather tuan ensational

Decisions of the Supreme Court.

In view o the necessities of the legal profession, and the general public interest attaching to the many new questions coming before our judicial tribunals, we will publish all the importent decisions of the Suprema Court, from official sources, which may be relied upon as anticely trustworthy.
